

Jeanette Cardno

Jig

Jeanette Cardno: this was written in the sixties and named for a cousin. It shows obvious Irish influence but I still like its tight musical organisation; one had to learn discipline, and to moderate ambition; in music just as in language it is sometimes the case that less is more.

The Cairnbulg Walk