

The Clett of Thurso

Jig

The musical score is written in treble clef with a 6/8 time signature. It consists of five staves of music. The first two staves form the first line, the third staff is the second line, and the fourth and fifth staves are marked with '1.' and '2.' respectively, indicating first and second endings. The music features a mix of eighth and sixteenth notes, with some triplets and a final double bar line with repeat dots.

The Clett of Thurso: a jig in characteristic vein again by William Sutherland of Airdrie. The Clett of Thurso is a rock about two miles northwest of Thurso, Caithness.
