

Miss Catherine Maxwell's Scotch Measure

March

Miss Catherine Maxwell's Scotch Measure: This is a late 18th century tune, composed by the noted fiddler Abraham MacIntosh (1769-1808); I have adjusted the second part so that it fits the compass of the pipes.

Miss Catriona Gillies: I have adjusted this so that it fits the compass of the pipes, for which it has not, I think, been previously set. It is the composition of country dance band leader Hebbie Gray, and reproduced here with his kind permission.
