

A I R S
Composed in the Islands of UIST AND SKYE.

Each of these liltis have words, some of which go so far back as the times of the Druids, which D. Mc D. being in possession of, intends publishing along with their translation, as also a number more in Vol: 2<sup>d</sup>

Fhuair mi Litir ón Ghobhadh, &c. An Elegiack Song.

HUMOROUS.

È ho rò, mo ghorm shuilleag Dhubh. The black haired Girl with the blue eyes.

LIVELY.

Ho rò gum b'aoibhuin leam, &c. The Sham Resurrection.

HUMOROUS.

Ho rò hoi hug orionnan, &c. The wind bound Sailor.

LIVELY.

A Mhic 'n Fhir ón Eilean Sgiathach. The Female lover's Challenge.

SLOW.

Mac mo Rìgh s' dol na eideadh. Sung in the times of the Druids.

SLOW.

O hi eile, O ho hi ri. Enlarging on her lover's Praise.

SLOW

A Leannain mo ruin. The once faithful lover.

SLOW

Mo ghaol an Colgairneach spraiceil. A Combat betwixt the friend & foe of Whisky.

BRISK

1st time 2<sup>d</sup> time

p f

B'fhearrleamsa na Breacan. I would forfeit my Plaid.

SLOW

A mhic Jain mhic Sheumais. A Battle fought between the M<sup>c</sup>Donalds & the M<sup>c</sup>Leods.

VERY SLOW

f p

f p

FINIS.